

ReGENERATIONS

AFRICAN AMERICAN LITERATURE AND CULTURE

SERIES EDITORS: JOHN ERNEST AND JOYCELYN K. MOODY

NOW PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE PRESS

Regenerations encourages research that develops and extends the understanding of African American literary and cultural history, while promoting regional and local research that represents the complex dynamics of African American experience across dynamics of geographical influence.

"[This] series will expand the scholarly discussion about the ways in which such texts help us to rethink the field and insure that the books will be taught in the classroom and thereby be sustained for the next generation."
